Hospital Board Hears Proposal

Local Pharmacists Oppose Drug Outlet In New Medical Building

A delegation from the Calloway County Pharmaceutical Association appeared before the regular meeting of the Murray-Calloway County Hospital Board Thursday, requesting that space not be provided for a pharmacy in a proposed medical office building at the hospital.

The pharmacists were objecting to the use of taxpayers' property to locate a doctors'-owned pharmacy which would compete with local entrepreneurs in selling drugs.

After requesting that such doctors' office building be built on the hospital grounds, the pharmacists continued that "If this complex is located on the county property, it is the wishes of this association, that this proposed structure have no allocated space for a pharmacy at the time of construction or anytime thereafter..."

Citing the premise that such a pharmacy would result in a monopoly of the pharmacy profession in Murray, the pharmacists concluded by saying that "We feel that the plan stretches medical and pharmaceutical ethics to the limit and that such practices can do little to improve the medical situation for the people of the community."

In question was a proposal made by the physicians of the Houston-McDevitt Clinic which says in effect that the doctors will not utilize the medical office building unless they can put in a pharmacy in the building.

In a proposal made to the board on May 21, 1975, the doctors said the clinic would be willing to pre-lease space in a hospital office building if a pharmacy could be included, and that if not, they would lease land and build their own building.

The doctors also proposed on Feb. 12, 1976, that a pharmacy be included on the first floor of the building, with 1,800 square feet of floor space. The doctors also proposed that they be provided free rent for 15 years for which the hospital would receive property owned by the clinic south of Walnut Street, and that the hospital, at the end of the 15 year-period, provide rent for the pharmacy at the same price as the rent for the business office in the building.

The pharmacists delegation objected to the use of city and county property to provide competition for local private enterprise. The answer given to them by the board was that the office space must be pre-leased to doctors that apparently will have to come from the local clinic, and that giving them the pharmacy rights may be the only way to get them into the building.

The consensus of the board seemed to be that the primary concern is to provide more physicians at closer proximity to the hospital, and that whatever means necessary must be taken to provide for that.

In other action, the board voted 5-1 to hire George Sullivan as the fiscal agent for bonds for the new hospital addition. City Mayor John Scott dissented, saying that the Sullivan firm was $5,000 higher than the low bidder.

Some of the other board members said they felt "obligated" to the Sullivans to name them fiscal agent, despite the fact that they were not low on their fees, because the Sullivans had done considerable work for the board in the past and that they have already done some work on this project before being awarded the contract.

On question from Mayor Scott, the Sullivan representatives admitted that as a matter of policy they usually do considerable preliminary work on projects before being awarded the contract, but the board still felt "obligated" to award them the contract.

The board also voted to tell the architects to proceed with plans to include 38 new acute beds in the expansion plans when the certificate of need is issued in three weeks. Approval was granted to the 38 beds for the local hospital at the state level this week.

In reviewing the financial statement for January, Administrator Stuart Poston told the board that the hospital occupancy rate is good, and admissions are up over last year, from 506 to 556. Patient days are lower, however, meaning that the hospital is treating more patients who are staying for shorter periods, providing more income for the hospital.

He noted however that the cash is at a low level for the hospital operation, primarily because accounts receivable are up from $553,000 to over $708,000, and are tying up considerable amounts of the hospital's assets.

Medical Malpractice Bills Filed By Senate Floor Leaders

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Julian Carroll's floor leaders in the Kentucky Senate have filed two medical malpractice insurance bills designed to provide coverage to all physicians and hospitals in the state.

The measures were introduced Thursday by Senate Majority Leader Tom Garrett, D-Paducah, and Sen. Joe Prather, D-Vine Grove, president pro tem of the upper chamber.

The malpractice bill would establish a Kentucky Patients Compensation Fund and make every licensed physician and every hospital in the state a member, Garrett explained.

"It would require each member to maintain professional liability insurance of not less than $100,000 per occurrence and $300,000 in the aggregate for all claims occurring in one year," Garrett said.

"It would further require each member of the fund to pay an annual assessment up to 10 per cent of his insurance premiums," Garrett said.

If a physician or hospital lost a lawsuit in a single case and the amount of the judgement was over $100,000, the excess over that amount would be paid from the compensation fund, Garrett said. If a doctor or hospital exhausted the $300,000 for all claims occurring in one year, the excess over $300,000 also would come out of the fund.

The second bill, a companion measure to the first, would establish a medical malpractice liability joint underwriting association.

Under the companion bill, Garrett said, most casualty insurance companies that operate in Kentucky would be required to offer a minimum amount of professional liability coverage to physicians and hospitals. The underwriting association would be required to insure physicians and hospitals "in the event the minimal amount of professional liability insurance is not available in the voluntary free market place," Garrett said.

The majority leader said the bills "will probably help to eliminate the exorbitant cost of professional liability insurance."

"It would do this in that the assessment to finance the fund premiums will be predicated on the risk factor in Kentucky," Garrett said.

"The amount of the insurance required to be carried is considerably less than what most physicians are presently carrying, and the assessment feature would probably prove to be less expensive than the plans that the physicians and hospitals are presently carrying," Garrett said.

State Insurance Commissioner Harold McGuffey had not had time to go over the proposed legislation late Thursday but said he would comment on them when he reads the bills.

Regents To Meet Saturday

The Murray State University Board of Regents will hold its regular meeting Saturday at ten p.m. at Sparks Hall, according to the office of MSU President Constantine Curris.

Brandon To Head Local Bike-A-Thon

Mike Brandon has been named Chairman of the Breath of Spring Bike-A-Thon to fight children's lung-damaging diseases, according to Stanley H. Tichenor, president of the Bluegrass Chapter, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Brandon, sports editor of The Murray Ledger & Times, will lead local volunteers in organizing a Bike-A-Thon in Murray. The funds that are raised will support research and care programs for children affected by lung-damaging diseases like Cystic Fibrosis, severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, and bronchiectasis.

The Bike-A-Thon will be held sometime during March or April, 1976.

Approximately one of every 1,500 babies are born with Cystic Fibrosis, which is still incurable. C-F is inherited when both parents are carriers of the recessive gene which causes C-F. It is believed that ten million Americans are symptomless carriers of this gene. Current research funded by the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is seeking a practical test to identify these carriers, as well as a cure for C-F and better methods of treatment for all lung-damaging diseases.

Because of improved treatment developed through research, many C-F patients are now living into their teens and young adulthood. These same treatments are also benefiting, and often curing children suffering from other lung-damaging diseases.

The Breath of Spring Bike-A-Thon will not only support research, but diagnosis and treatment of children with lung-damaging diseases in C-F centers across the country. There are more than 110 of these centers, which provide educational programs and research.

House Expected To Spend Most Of Day On Busing-Related Bills

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky House was expected to spend most of today's session deliberating a host of busing-related bills.

The legislation is aimed mainly at circumventing the court-ordered busing for purposes of school desegregation, which began in Jefferson County last fall.

At least one of the measures is intended more as a slap at the judges who ordered the busing than the busing itself. It would limit their terms to six years.

On Thursday, the House approved an administration-backed bill to give high school students free textbooks.

The bill was amended in committee to conform to the $7.6 million allocated to the program in Gov. Julian Carroll's proposed 1976-78 budget.

The state will begin purchasing and distributing free textbooks beginning with the 1976-77 school year. The program will be phased in gradually by subject area.

Carroll has said all high school texts would be provided free to students by the end of his administration in 1979.

The high school book program will operate independently of the existing kindergarten through grade eight textbook program.

Approval of the bill came after a humorous exchange between the sponsor, Rep. Herman Ratliffe, R-Campbellsville, and Leitchfield Democrat Bill Vincent.

Vincent asked his Republican colleague, "Is this an administration bill?" drawing smiles from other legislators.

Nodding assent, the Republican sponsor paused briefly and said, "I don't normally handle administration bills. But this is a case of all of us working together."

The House also approved a measure which its sponsor described as "the grackle bill." The measure permits mayors or county judges to ask the state Agriculture Commissioner to investigate why there are mosquitos, blackbirds or other pests in a particular area, and to take corrective action if necessary.

The sponsor, Rep. Hank Hancock, D-Frankfort, joked that it is "a hidden and covered up Frankfort bill" because local officials in Western Kentucky had threatened to send all the blackbirds and other pests to the state capital unless something were done about the problem.

Hancock deferred to his Western Kentucky co-sponsor, Ramsey Morris, D-Hopkinsville, for an explanation. Morris said the bill would provide a vehicle by which local officials could seek relief from insect, animal or bird pests.

Inflation Rate Slowed By Drop In Retail Food Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer prices increased four-tenths of a percent in January as the first decline in retail food prices in five months helped slow the rate of inflation, the government said today.

The Labor Department said the January consumer prices were reported on a seasonally adjusted basis. In December, consumer prices increased five-tenths of a percent.

For the 12-month period ending in January, consumer prices increased 6.8 per cent, the lowest 12-month increase since July 1973 when prices had risen 5.7 per cent.

Wholesale prices have not increased at all during the past three-month period.

The Ford administration is forecasting an inflation rate of just under 6 per cent for 1976, and the January increase in prices was well within the target period. If continued for 12 months, the January inflation rate would lead to an over-all hike in consumer prices of only about 4.8 per cent in the year.

The Labor Department said a decline in grocery store food prices of four-tenths of a percent during January partially offset a big increase of prices of services of 1.1 per cent. Services prices were pushed upward by a postal rate increase and higher medical costs and auto insurance rates.

Gasoline and motor oil prices fell 1.6 per cent in January, also contributing to the slower inflation rate.

Among foods, there were lower prices in January for pork, poultry, beef and fresh vegetables. The decline in pork and poultry prices were especially sharp, the department said.

Prices of commodities other than foods increased two-tenths of a percent in January, the smallest gain in the commodities index since a similar increase in September of 1973.

The Labor Department said its consumer price index in January was 166.7, meaning that consumers had to pay $166.70 for goods that cost only $100 in 1967.

Some encouraging news for the 7.3 million Americans who cannot find work came from Chairman Alan Greenspan of the President's Council of Economic Advisers. Greenspan said the job lay-off rate remains favorable and should be reflected in further declines in the nation's unemployment rate in months ahead. Unemployment was 7.8 per cent in January, down from 8.3 per cent in December.

But there also were some warnings that things could get worse in the economy later in the year unless care is taken.

Wife's Insults Douse His Flame

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married for over 30 years and have reached an age where we need separate bedrooms to get a good night's sleep.

When a little fire of passion burns within me, I go to the wife's room and tactfully suggest that a little physical togetherness would be pleasant for both of us.

Does she say she has a "headache"? No. She merely starts a monologue with something like, "If you hadn't bought that stupid oil stock, we could have gone on a vacation this year." (I think you get the idea, Abby.)

Naturally, this line of chatter turns me off like a $1.98 alarm clock, and I go back to my room, feeling rejected and saying to myself, "I'm going to leave that woman." But I never do, and then I get to thinking maybe next time she'll forget these things and put out the fire in the proper manner.

Too rarely she does. Mine is a sad case for which I'm afraid there is no solution.

NEEDS LOVE

DEAR NEEDS: You're right. Yours IS a sad case for which there is no solution. But I'll print it anyway because misery loves company, and it may comfort the miserable to know they are not alone.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are getting a divorce. We have a 2-month-old baby. When our baby was 3 weeks old, I caught my husband with another woman.

To teach him a lesson I filed for a divorce, thinking it would make him regret what he had done and he would beg me to take him back. Well, it didn't work, so now I am getting a divorce from a husband I am still in love with and don't want to lose.

Maybe if you print this it will make people think twice before they file for a divorce they don't want. Sign me... FOOLISH IN FLORIDA

DEAR FOOLISH: You are even more foolish if you don't get in touch with your husband immediately and tell him exactly how you feel. It may not be too late to pick up the pieces. It's worth a try.

DEAR ABBY: I am a wife and homemaker who enjoys entertaining, and I am told I do it well. We recently entertained another couple in our home for dinner, and I prepared a delicious gourmet meal. (The man works with my husband.)

Before they left, the wife said, "I don't knock myself out cooking for company anymore, but I'd be glad to drive you uptown for lunch some day."

Abby, is that kind of invitation proper reciprocation for a dinner such as mine? My husband and I are interested in these people as a couple. It was not my intention to socialize at lunch with this lady alone.

How should this be handled tactfully if she invites me to lunch "uptown sometime"?

IN A BIND

DEAR IN: There's no way to tell her tactfully that you have no interest in seeing her without her husband. However, since that's the case, consistently and politely decline her luncheon offer and hope she catches on. (But don't hold your breath.)

traced its beginnings from a small room over the old Ben Franklin Store in the Gatlin Building in 1966 to its present large building on North Sixth Street — a progression, she said, that was strongly supported by the Carman, Chrisman, Harvey, and Goodman families.

The purpose of the Guild, Mrs. Doyle explained, is to unify people interested in art unprofessionally and to offer the encouragement, instruction, a place to work, and a place to show their work. The Guild presently has twenty-five members and operates with no income other than dues, patron donations, and civic contributions for specific repairs and additions.

The Murray Guild offers to the public numerous workshops led by artists and professors of state and national acclaim and for the past six years has sponsored the Land Between the Lakes Arts and Crafts Festival which has become nationally recognized. Last year fifteen states were represented there by 15,000 persons.

The Art Guild is open Monday through Friday from noon to four p.m. and Mrs. Doyle said the group encourages the public to visit and look at the art or come on Thursdays to watch some of the members at work with their art.

After the program refreshments were served and Sigmas were invited to browse around and look at all the lovely art work. A short business meeting followed. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. John Gregory, Mrs. George Oakley, Mrs. Allen Russell, and Mrs. Bobby Toon.

'A Revolutionary; Daring To Be Different'

By Julian Warren,
Bethel-Brook's Chapel

There are many differing views as to what a revolution is. Rather often today we are reminded of a revolution breaking out at some place in the world, and we dare say, there is not much of the spirit of daring and adventure surrounding it as was the case of the revolution in our own land that led to our freedom such a short few years ago. But now that we think of it, couldn't we say that being a revolutionary is really a way of daring to be different?

The world's most noted Revolutionary, Jesus Christ, fought a war of liberation for the human race, and got nails in His hands and a spear in His side as His thanks. We Americans see our war of revolution as a Holy war, made necessary in order to liberate a nation of people desiring freedom to live and worship in dignity and in peace. But in our case where can the spirit of revolution stop? When persons lose their vision of victories won at a great cost, and relax their vigilance we

Today In History

Today is Friday, Feb. 20th, the 51st day of 1976. There are 315 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1962, John Glenn became the first American to orbit the earth. After being launched from Cape Canaveral, he circled the earth three times and made a safe landing in the Atlantic.

On this date:

In 1437, King James I of Scotland was murdered in the Scottish city of Perth.

In 1792, President George Washington signed an act creating the U.S. Post Office.

In 1809, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that the power of the federal government is greater than that of any individual state.

In 1938, Anthony Eden resigned as British foreign secretary, charging Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain with appeasement of Nazi Germany.

In 1967, President Sukarno of Indonesia surrendered all executive power to General Suharto, keeping only the title of president.

In 1972, President Richard Nixon arrived in Peking for a historic meeting with officials of Communist China.

Ten years ago: Communist China accused U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk of threatening a major war and declared that China was ready to take up the challenge.

Five years ago: North Vietnamese troops defending the Ho Chi Minh trail overran a South Vietnamese outpost and besieged two others in sharp fighting along the border of Laos.

One year ago: President Ford signed a bill raising the U.S. debt limit.

Today's birthdays: Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin is 72 years old. Indonesian President Suharto is 55. Socialite Gloria Vanderbilt is 52.

Thought for today: History is something that never happened, written by a person who was not there — anonymous.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, the revolutionary Committee of Safety in Virginia rejected an offer by British Governor Lord Dunmore to go to England to try to bring about reconciliation with the American Colonies.

Bible Thought

And the Lord, he it is that doth go before thee; he will be with thee, he will not fail thee, neither forsake thee... fear not... Deuteronomy 31:8.

When everything else fails us, God remains faithful. He is always with us.

Let's Stay Well

Drinking and Driving

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Drunken driving persists as a major problem which is far from solved. Alcohol continues to be involved in about 50 per cent of all fatal traffic accidents.

Punishment has not been effective in reducing drunken driving. Crackdowns in certain areas have not prevented or significantly reduced the incidence of severe penalties. These crackdowns have been tried in many separate locations in the United States and in other countries, especially in Norway and Sweden.

Most of us drink alcohol occasionally, even if not in excess. Also, the majority of us drive.

Alcohol has a subtle effect on the drivers and on their companions who have been drinking. It impairs their judgment, and they often fail to realize that they are under the influence of alcohol. They feel relaxed, uninhibited, and safe about driving and riding in an automobile. It takes relatively little drinking to bring the blood alcohol to the legal level of drunkenness (0.1 of 1 per cent in most states). The alcohol in six ounces of liquor or in two martinis is sufficient to do this. Many who drink and drive have taken on larger amounts of alcohol; it makes no difference whether it has been in the form of liquor, gin, wine, or beer.

The human body can burn up about one ounce of alcohol per hour. This rate of sobering cannot be speeded up by coffee or so-called remedies.

Additional public education is needed to make people more aware of the dangers of combining drinking and driving.

Q. Mrs. K.D. has noted recently several articles on child abuse.

She observes that one form of child abuse on which she has seen little comment involves children who are abused by one or both parents during a pending divorce.

A. This abuse occurs all too often when one parent attempts to use his or her children to punish the other parent or to get even. Children relate to both mother and father, and it is grossly unfair and deplorable to see children exploited by one or both parents during a divorce. Attorneys, if diligent and if informed of the facts, can do much to protect the children, as can the courts. Where divorce is inevitable, prompt action lessens the chances of this form of child abuse.

Q. Miss L.R. explains that she had a minor injury to her

The Church's Meaning And Mission

Matthew 16:13-26

Near Caesarea Philippi Christ asked the disciples whom they heard others say that He was. He was told that some thought He was John the Baptist, reminding them of their obligations to God; others thought that He was Elijah, calling upon them to live righteous lives; others said that He was Jeremiah, advocating a genuine revival; and still others thought that He was one of the prophets. All thought that He was a great and good man, lofty in ideals, full of religious fervor, and wonderful in His teachings, but none thought of Him as the long-expected Messiah.

Then, Christ asked His intimate friends, "Whom say ye that I am?" With His usual impetuosity, Peter, the spokesman for the disciples, answered, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." In his mind there was not any doubt about that. Christ stated that it was not due to human wisdom that Peter had reached that conclusion, but that it had been revealed to him by the Father. The glorious truth of the deity of Christ, which is the very heart of the Christian faith, is a divine revelation, and not a human discovery.

In announcing His purpose our Lord said: "Thou art Peter (Petros - literally, 'a pebble' or 'a little rock'), and upon this Rock (Petra - literally, 'a fixed rock' or 'a ledge rock') I will build my church." So, this Rock, upon which Christ promised to build His church, is Himself, the Son of the living God. The fulfillment of this promise through the centuries constitutes the clearest possible proof of the deity of Christ. Only God could speak thus and then bring it to pass. Christ also promised His servant to give unto him "the keys of the kingdom of heaven." Inasmuch as the gospel of Christ is the key to the kingdom, it is the privilege of all Christians to present this gospel to others and thereby open the door of salvation to all who will repent their sins and believe in Christ.

After Christ heard the disciples declare their faith in His deity and Messiahship, He began to teach them expressly and to inform them clearly of His approaching sufferings, death, burial, and resurrection. When Christ informed them that such was on His program, the disciples were shocked and astounded. The very idea was abhorrent to them. With rash impulsiveness Peter took Christ aside and privately tried to persuade Him not to pursue what he considered to be such an unwise program. Willing to do anything possible to prevent Christ from going to the cross, Peter expressed the hope that God would not allow such a thing to befall Christ.

In his attempt to dissuade Christ from going to the cross Peter was playing into the hands of Satan. In response to the remonstrance of Peter, with stern severity Christ administered a solemn and sharp rebuke, letting him know that his suggestion originated with Satan. Nothing was more offensive to Christ than an attempt to keep Him from suffering and dying to obtain salvation for sinners. He strongly resented Peter's attempt to keep Him from doing God's will and achieving His goal.

The cost of discipleship was stated in verses 24-26. To all who have an idea of being Christ's disciples, our Lord made it known that three things are involved: self-denial, cross-bearing, and following Christ. Self-denial is a renunciation, a disowning of self, a declaration that self shall not rule. It is the complete setting aside of self-will for full obedience to God's will. Denial of self is the surest way to usefulness. Cross-bearing is a real part of discipleship. One cannot be a Christian and not have a cross to bear any more than he can be a man and not have a shadow. Following Christ is a priceless privilege and an indescribable glory. We are to follow Christ when things are going well with us and when they are going ill with us. To follow Christ is to think His thoughts, to declare His message, and to do His will. As we follow Him joy unspeakable will flood our souls.

HEARTLINE

HEARTLINE is a service for senior citizens of all ages. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems—fast. If you have a question or a problem not answered in these columns, write HEARTLINE, 8514 N. Main St., Dayton, Ohio 45415. Senior citizens will receive prompt replies. The most useful replies will be printed in this column.

Heartline: I was married to my ex-husband for 18 years before our divorce. He will soon draw Social Security retirement. Can I draw on his work record when I become 62?—C.M.

Answer: No, if you get a divorce you must have been married to your husband for 20 full years before you are eligible for wife's or widow's benefits under his work record. Your children, if you have any, are eligible for benefits under his work record, assuming he is their legal father.

Heartline: Will Medicare cover a chiropractor's services?—V.C.

Answer: Medicare will cover a chiropractor's treatment of manual manipulation of the spine to correct a subluxation that can be demonstrated by X ray. This is the only treatment by a chiropractor which Medicare will cover. However, Medical Insurance (Part B) will not help cover the cost of the X rays or for any other diagnostic or therapeutic services furnished by a chiropractor. The chiropractor must be a licensed and Medicare-certified chiropractor.

Heartline: Is my $60-deductible subject to the "reasonable" charges ruling?—X.A.

Answer: Yes, it is. For example, if your first doctor's bill of the year is $75 and the Medicare carrier determines $50 to be the reasonable charge, then you have only met $50 of your deductible.

Heartline: Is a veteran eligible for the car allowance if he has lost the use of a limb (service-connected), although he is not rated 100 per cent for his service-connected disabilities?—N.H.

Answer: The veteran does not have to be rated 100 per cent in order to be eligible for an automobile grant. If he has lost the use of a limb which is service-connected, he meets the eligibility requirements.

Heartline: Could you please tell me how I can obtain Heartline's "Guide to Medicare"?—B.B.J.

Answer: Heartline's 1976 "Guide to Medicare" is an easy-to-understand booklet covering the entire Medicare program. The booklet is in question-and-answer form and in large type. This book contains all up-to-date information concerning Medicare.

To order this booklet, send $1.50 to Heartline's "Guide to Medicare," 8514 N. Main St., Dayton, Ohio 45415. If for any reason you are not satisfied, you may return this booklet within 30 days and receive a full refund. Please allow 30 days for delivery.

AN INVESTMENT IN YOUR FUTURE ...ATTEND CHURCH

First In The HEART'S OF OUR COUNTRYMEN

George Washington, the first in the hearts of his countrymen. What a man! He was all the others at his time. Certainly, there were those more learned, others more powerful, but we honor Washington above all the rest. We remember him, primarily, for his superior character. His standards of integrity, his courage, his honesty, served as an example for a whole nation to follow.

We enter our bi-centennial year, a nation disillusioned with our political leadership. We as a people must demand of ourselves and our leaders the same standards of greatness exemplified by George Washington. We can still learn from the "Father of our Country" the lessons that made this country great.

Ali Heavily Favored In Bout With Coopman

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
AP Sports Writer
SAN JUAN (AP) — The heavyweight championship comes to Puerto Rico for the first time tonight, pitting Muhammad Ali, a man who has made millions of dollars from the title, against Jean-Pierre Coopman, whose purse will top his previous total earnings.

Ali is an overwhelming favorite to beat the unranked Belgian despite a bothersome cold and less than top condition.

The scheduled 15-rounder is set for the 12,000-seat Roberto Clemente Coliseum and will be televised live to the United States by CBS from 9 to 11 p.m. EST. The fight is scheduled to start at 9:45 p.m.

Ali, who is getting $1.1 million for his 17th appearance in a championship fight, worked out Thursday, then went to the Coliseum where he weighed in at 226 pounds, only 1½ pounds more than he scaled for his title fight victory over Joe Frazier last Oct. 1.

Coopman, a sculptor of religious statues, weighed 206 for his big chance. He will get about $100,000 for tonight's fight. His previous biggest purse was $12,400.

The weigh-in lacked any of the flair that has marked previous Ali weigh-ins where the champion often gestured and screamed at such opponents as Frazier, George Foreman and Sonny Liston.

It does Ali little good to shout at Coopman because the 29-year-old Belgian speaks only Flemish and doesn't understand a word Ali says.

Coopman goes into the title bout with a record of 24-3-1 with 16 knockouts. Most of his opponents are unknown outside of Europe and he has fought only once before outside of Belgium, losing a decision to Harald Skog in Norway.

For Ali, who spent much of the time in the days leading up to the fight talking about future matches rather than about Coopman, the fight will be his 52nd in a career which began in 1960 and was interrupted for 3½ years because of his refusal to enter U.S. Military Service.

Ali's record is 49-2-0, with 35 knockouts. His only losses were to Frazier and Ken Norton, both of which he avenged.

Ismael Quinones Falu of Puerto Rico will be the referee, and the Puerto Rico Boxing Commission will select the two judges before the fight. Scoring for the bout will be under the 10-point must system with 10 points to the winner of each round and nine or less to the loser.

There also will be another championship fight on the card, featuring Alfredo Escalera of Puerto Rico, the World Boxing Council junior lightweight champion. He will meet Jose Fernandez of New York.

Escalera will be making the third defense of the title he won from Kuniaki Shibata of Japan last year. It will be his first appearance as champion in Puerto Rico. This fight will not be televised.

Also on the card will be Jimmy Young of Philadelphia, who is expected to be Ali's next opponent.

Negotiations are under way to match Young and the champion sometime in April in Costa Rica. Ali would then be in position for his next "big money" fight, most likely against Norton in July at a site in the United States.

Young's opponent tonight will be Puerto Rican Joe "King" Roman, who once tried to take the heavyweight title from Foreman and was knocked out in one round.

East Girls And North Boys Grab County Tournament Wins

By Patsy J. Beauchamp

Ledger & Times Sports Writer

The East Calloway girls and the North boys plugged their way to the finals of the Calloway County Junior High Basketball tourney last night.

The East girls never trailed in their 26-17 victory over Southwest.

The East squad roared to an early 5-0 lead in the first quarter before Southwest could find the scoring range.

Led by Mary Wagoner's first half nine points, the East team pulled ahead 10-3 at the quarterstop.

Each team scored four points in the second quarter and the half ended with East still on top 14-7.

In the third period, the Southwest team came stomping back and pulled to within three points of the leaders. But numerous turnovers caused the Southwest rally to end.

Sharp defensive play by East's Penny Overby and Wagoner caused Southwest to turn the ball over five straight times, but could turn only one steal into two points as the third quarter ended 16-11.

Monty Wilson put the game out of reach in the fourth period by tossing in two free throws. Wagoner took a stolen pass in for the lay-up and East took an 11 point lead with three minutes left in the game.

Wilson and Wagoner shared game high honors scoring 11 points each for East.

Meleah Paschall led the Southwest squad with seven. Cheryl Dick added five.

Prior to the East - North boys game, it was announced that Murray was leading Western Kentucky 42-34 at the half.

The underdog East squad must have thought at this point, "If Murray State can do it, so can we," as they shocked North and took an early 8-5 first quarter lead.

But, as champions always do, North bounced back in the second period to tie the game at eight apiece. Two more times the game was tied in the second quarter at ten all and 12-12. That was the last time East bid for the game as the half ended with North on top 20-16.

Keith Edwards, scoring ten of his game-high 16 points in the second half for North, started the drive that was eventually the downfall for the East squad.

Pulling down rebound after rebound, Edwards enabled the North squad to keep the ball and pull away to a 32-24 third period lead.

With three minutes remaining in the game, the North team iced the game as they outscored East 9-1.

So, as predicted Western came out on top of Murray, so did predicted North come out on top of East, winning 45-31.

Along with Edwards' 16 points, Paschall added 11 for North.

Earl Kirks paced the East squad with ten points while Gary Emerson pumped in eight.

The East girls will play North in the championship game scheduled to begin at 6:30 p. m. The North boys will play Southwest for the number one spot at 7:45 p. m.

Fordham Coach Sees Writing On Wall After Loss To Irish

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hal

Wissel had a hard time keeping his mind on basketball and his team had a hard time keeping up with Notre Dame. It amounted to a very frustrating evening for the Fordham Rams — and the Fordham fans.

While the Madison Square Garden crowd of 11,712 serenaded the beleaguered Fordham coach with "Goodbye Wissel" Thursday night, the Fighting Irish were turning up for the post-season playoffs with a clinically easy 91-78 victory.

"We're one step closer to the NCAA playoffs," said Irish Coach Digger Phelps after his eighth-ranked team simply manhandled the skidding Rams in front of their disenchanted followers.

Fordham's record thus fell to 7-17, one of its worst in years, and fueled smoldering rumors of Wissel's premature departure from Rose Hill. Wissel still has another year to go on his contract, but it's reported that the school's Athletic Governing Board has recommended his release after this season.

As if Wissel didn't feel uncomfortable enough, Notre Dame made him feel even more uncomfortable. Particularly Adrian Dantley, who scored 33 points and collected 17 rebounds.

Notre Dame's leading player was kept in the game until only 90 seconds were left, long after the Irish had put the Rams to sleep. This did not go unnoticed by sports writers.

"People like to see him play," Phelps said, dismissing any intentions of piling up the score. "One time in Philadelphia I took him out early and I was booed by the fans."

The Fordham-Notre Dame game was the second of a doubleheader. In the opener, Long Island University beat Manhattan 88-71 behind a 26-point performance by Nate Revels.

In other games involving ranked teams, No. 5 UCLA whipped Oregon State 78-69 with a second-half rally keyed by centers Ralph Drollinger and David Greenwood

SO WE MAKE MISTAKES TOO—Okay. The picture is a little out of focus, proving photographers aren't perfect. But, officials aren't perfect either. Jeff Hughes (34) of Murray was called for a foul when he blocked this shot put up by Western's Chuck Rawlings. The whistle was blown when Hughes was at the peak of his jump.

Joe Hall Doesn't Like To Use Frosh Players

By BOB COOPER
AP Sports Writer
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Freshmen now have been playing major varsity sports in the big universities for four years and Kentucky Basketball Coach Joe Hall is "even stronger against it than I earlier was."

Hall is using three freshmen on his varsity in the current season, one of them as a "sophomore" starter, but he thinks it would be equitable to both the team and the players for them to be ineligible.

"I definitely think these players need a year to establish themselves, to have a year without the pressure of competition, without the pressure of having to make it on the varsity level," he said.

Hall was an assistant under the now-retired Adolph Rupp when the system at Kentucky was to drill incoming freshman basketball players as hard or harder than the varsity—sort of a basic training camp.

This eliminated the "star status" that often comes with recruiting the best players from high school teams and readied them for the team concept that makes for the best collegiate play.

It also gave them time to "get oriented into the academic program and to mature a little bit," as well as become accustomed to life away from home without pressure, Hall said.

But in 1972, the NCAA ruled that freshmen could play varsity ball.

"I didn't speak out against it then, but I didn't like it because I had been in a small college (Regis) program where they had it and I had seen the results of it," Hall said in an interview.

The NCAA rule said schools could use freshmen on the varsity, but also could have junior varsity—no longer called freshman—teams. It also held a player could play both junior varsity and varsity, with some limitations.

"I said at the time that freshmen would be embarrassed to play on the junior varsity and the ones I've seen throughout the country are. They don't want any part of the junior varsity," Hall said.

Hall's three freshmen this year have played a total of 625 minutes—a little more than one player would see action if he had been in every game for every minute.

One of these, Truman Claytor, has started eight of Kentucky's 20 games.

However, Hall believes, in general, "we're seeing the evidence" of bad effects of the freshmen-eligible rule "all over the country."

"A big factor, psychologically, is the happiness of the players. A player who comes in as a freshman and is pressured to make the varsity and doesn't, sees a strong opportunity to transfer to another school."

"They're making a very hasty judgement as to their future," Hall said.

"It's not that some of these guys aren't good enough to play on our varsity. It's just that they aren't good enough to play immediately (and he stressed that word) on our varsity," he said.

"I just don't think this kind of rule is going to help basketball nor is it going to help the individual players," Hall said.

Schmidt Leads OVC

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Players from Tennessee Tech, East Tennessee and Morehead are individual leaders in the latest basketball statistics released by the Ohio Valley Conference.

Tech's Tom Schmidt leads the league with a 23.4 scoring average while East Tennessee's Bob Brown leads in field goal percentage at 67.5 per cent.

Morehead's Ted Hundley is the leading rebounder with 10.7 per game while teammate Herzie Stamper leads free throw shooters at 85.2 per cent.

In team statistics, Tennessee Tech is the highest scoring team at 88.4 points a game while Middle Tennessee leads in scoring defense, allowing 72.4 points a game.

Fred Overton stood outside of the Sports Arena on the warm February night. Now calm and collected, he talked with the two officials who 15 minutes earlier, he was screaming at in Murray State's 70-68 loss to Western Kentucky.

Okay Paul Harvey. Here's your quote for the day: "If you guys can't see better than you did on the floor tonight, you might as well pitch a tent instead of driving back home," an angry fan shouted.

The officials didn't have a tent to cover themselves with. But in the game, they were covered with paper cups, ice and anything else handy that fans could throw.

Here are some observations we'll make on the game before getting to the real meat of it:

—The OVC doesn't lack good ballplayers. It lacks good officials.

—Murray State should lose their last three games of the season so they can go on the road and play their first round game of the Conference Post-Season Tournament. Murray sure can't get any breaks at home.

—Screwdrivers will be passed out at the next home game so fans can take apart their seats to throw on the floor.

In a two-point loss, there are always things you can look back on and say, if...

In the loss to Western, there are several things you can look back on and say things that would make you lose your religion in a hurry.

The two calls that did it were both goaltending.

Murray, after leading 42-34 at intermission and playing some of its best ball of the season, trailed 61-59 with less than seven and a half minutes left in the contest.

Freshman Vic Jordan came up with a steal, drove to the basket and put up a shot. Western's Wilson James came flying up behind Jordan and the shot fell off. James grabbed the rim and the backboard shook like it was going to fall off.

The officials had their backs turned and did not see the goal shaking. Immediately, the floor became a scene that would make Fred Sanford feel at home.

The whole gymnasium stood and booed all the time Western had the ball. The icing on the cake came on the same possession. Jesse Williams, who injured his ankle in the first few minutes of the game and wasn't even supposed to be playing anymore, blocked a shot by James.

Goaltending was called. That did it. After at least two minutes of booing, screaming and cussing, there was finally silence. And it took Overton at the microphone to announce to the crowd that if anyone objects were thrown on the floor, the Racers would get a technical.

Hold on folks. With 4:32 left in the game, the score was tied at 63 apiece when Jeff Hughes went up and CLEANLY

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Three former Kentucky football stars were honored Thursday at a banquet at the Southeastern Conference unveiled its all-star team for the past 25 years.

End Steve Meilinger and tackle Bob Gain were named to the offensive team and tackle Lou Michaels was selected to the defensive team.

INTRODUCING ONE OF THE STARS—No folks. Fred Overton isn't at the microphone to introduce one of the officials who watches from the sideline. Overton had to go to the microphone to ask the fans to maintain their composure somewhat better, after an obvious bad call that helped to seal Murray's fate against Western Kentucky.

Hughes was called for a foul. This time, the crowd made more noise and booed more than did the folks in Louisville when George McGovern said he supported court-ordered busing.

Rawlings hit one of the two free throws and Western went up by one at 64-63.

The last four minutes was nothing but heartbreak for the cardiac kids, the Racers. Vic Jordan fouled out with just over two minutes left in the game and that did it.

Murray State had its chances to tie or even go ahead. But the Racers, who stayed with their offense nearly the entire game, rushed a couple of shots in the final minutes.

"The fact that Williams got hurt had to bother him," Hilltopper Coach Jim Richards said. Williams shot just 12 times, hitting six and finished with a season-low 12 points.

"He's such a nice kid. I like to win games but I'll tell you right now, down deep I hope Jesse makes every shot he takes. I like to see him have a good night."

"He's one of the best players in the conference, if not the best and I really am sorry he got hurt," Richards said.

For the people who think there is no love lost between Murray and Western, well, not really. Richards and Overton are very close friends and it always shows after the games.

"Fred has to be commended for his outstanding job he's done at Murray this year. Under the stress of losing, still he keeps his great leadership ability."

"I admire Overton and the fans here at Murray. It's a great place to play and they make a great contribution to the game of basketball."

"If Murray had Larry Moffett right now, they just might be the best team in the conference. And I'll tell you another thing, we didn't win, we were just fortunate enough to be ahead with the clock running out," Richards added.

Jeff Hughes, who played one of his most brilliant games ever, finished with 17 points to lead Murray while Grover Woolard, who stunned the crowd with his fantastic passing and dribbling ability, had 14.

Jordan finished with 12 while sophomore guard Tommy Wade added 10 points, all in the first half.

"We've won two straight now, regardless of what the scoreboard here says. We beat Indiana State and Western," Overton said.

"We can't ask anymore from our kids. They gave all they got and played together. All we need now is to inherit a couple of mooses next year and hunt over the rest of the world to find someone who can come near replacing Jesse Williams," Overton added.

Western improves its overall mark to 14-8 and its league mark to 8-3 and is in a tie with Morehead and Austin Peay for the conference lead.

Murray drops to 7-15 overall and 3-8 in the league. And as Jim Richards sincerely believes, the Racers aren't that bad of a team.

"I look for Murray to give people some real problems in the tournament," Richards said.

"I just hope we don't draw them."

Murray hopes the opposite.

Tiger Girls Rally Late To Turn Back Calloway County

By STEVE W. GIVENS
Ledger & Times Sports Writer
Breaking a 29-all deadlock with 3:50 left in the contest, Murray High allowed arch-rival Calloway County just three more points enroute to a 42-32 win in girls basketball action Thursday night.

With forward Mary Ann Littleton canning four markers during that stretch and her teammate Tammy Boone adding three points, the host Tigers were able to keep the Lakers scrambling for the ball and fouling frequently in the process.

Coach Jane Fitch's squad, now 13-3 for the season, was led by Littleton's 12 points and Boone's 11, while center Denise Bumphis pumped in nine big markers from the lane. The Tigers jumped to a 4-0 advantage behind 15 foot baskets by guards Marlene Farrell and Jaina Washer before CCHS' Marilyn McKenzie drew the game's first three point play with 3:54 to go in the first quarter.

A MHS turnover provided the visitors, now 9-6 overall, with their first advantage as center Felecia Pinner stole the ball in the Tiger backcourt and fired to forward Patricia McKenzie who made it 5-4.

Swapping baskets, the Lakers saw their single point lead vanish when Littleton pumped in a 10 foot shot. Then Boone grabbed her second rebounded shot and pushed it through the net for the first of a trio of three-point MHS spreads at 10-7 with 6:30 to go in the half.

The visitors managed to cut their deficit to a single marker twice before halftime, but each time the Tigers would push it back to three. CCHS' guard Susie Imes, the Lakers' second leading scorer, made the last bucket of the quarter with 2:32 showing to make it 14-13, Murray High.

Coach David Lanier's Lakers deadlocked the game at 14-all when Pinner hit the first of a two shot effort: Then the two squads battled through two more standoffs until Marilyn McKenzie was fouled and sank both ends of the free throw trip to boost the visitors to a 20-18 edge with 4:54 showing in the third canto.

The final tie was at 22-all when MHS's Bumphis canned a rebound shot off the back board to push the Tigers into a lead they never lost. Calloway County added a single point before the quarter ended with MHS holding a 24-23 edge.

Two quick scores into the final period kept the standoff narrow before Boone fired in a long shot over three Laker defenders to make it 29-24, MHS. But then Becky Imes slipped out front of the Tigers and tallied on a wide-open lay-in before teammate Susie Imes drew a foul from MHS's Cindy Jetton, and gave CCHS one more point.

Coach Fitch signalled for a timeout with 4:14 showing and the Tigers clinging to a narrow 29-28 edge. Although Jetton made the second free shot to deadlock the score one final time, discussion off the court seemed to inspire the Tigers who began their final quarter blitz from that point.

In the preliminary freshman clash, the host Tigers survived a Laker rally which cut the score to 48-40 with 1:33 left in the action to coast to a 54-44 win over the visitors.

Flames' Coach Worried Over His Team's Slump

By The Associated Press

Atlanta Flames Coach Fred Creighton is becoming more and more concerned with his team's play as the National Hockey League season enters its stretch drive. What had been a 15-point lead over the last-place New York Rangers in the Lester Patrick Division has been whittled down to eight points.

The Flames have lost six and tied two of their eight road games since Jan. 3. They've won just three of their last 17 games, picking up only nine of a possible 34 points in that span. With Thursday night's 3-1 loss to the Buffalo Sabres in the second of six consecutive road contests, Creighton expressed worry.

"We're placing ourselves in a very difficult position," he said, noting the Rangers have played two fewer games. "I hope our people have enough character to get themselves out of it."

The Buffalo victory and Pittsburgh's 7-5 triumph over Toronto were the only NHL games Thursday night. In the World Hockey Association, Houston topped Cleveland 5-3 and Indianapolis bombed New England 10-3.

Rick Martin and Bill Hajt scored third-period goals and Al Smith stopped 17 shots for his fourth consecutive victory since joining the team as the Sabres topped the Flames.

Hajt, a defenseman, netted his fourth goal of the year to insure the outcome with 8:39 remaining in the game. He worked double duty Thursday night because of an injury to Jerry Korab and the continued illness of Jim Schoenfeld—two of the club's defensive mainstays.

Red-Hot Cavaliers Pleasing To Fitch, Colonels Dumped

By The Associated Press

Coach Bill Fitch was perfectly satisfied with the end of Cleveland's 18-point victory over Portland Thursday night — but he was even happier with the way his Cavaliers performed early in the game, when they trailed.

"I like the way we played when we were down 14-7," Fitch said after the Cavaliers whipped the Trail Blazers 112-94 for their 13th victory in 15 games and a club-record ninth consecutive home-court triumph.

"When we were young, we panicked in that situation. I like the fact we beat Portland when they played very well, with the exception they had tough luck shooting. One reason we didn't look very good early is they played very good defense."

Portland's Lenny Wilkens made it a mutual admiration society. "I like the players on the Cavaliers," he said. "They seem to get a team effort every night."

Campy Russell scored 18 points, 14 in the second half, as the Cavaliers recorded their seventh straight victory in the night's only NBA contest. Dick Snyder added 17 points, Jim Chones 15 and Jim Brewer 14 for Cleveland. Sidney Wicks led Portland with 23 points.

In the American Basketball Association, Denver held off Indiana 128-123 and Virginia walloped Kentucky 102-82. Nuggets 123, Pacers 123. Key points by Denver's David Thompson and Dan Issel and a steal by Bobby Jones in the closing seconds overcame a 40-point performance by Indiana's Billy Knight.

The Nuggets maintained the lead until Darnell Hillman's basket with 1:31 to go put Indiana on top 121-120. Thompson gave Denver the lead for good at 124-123, Dan Issel made two free throws with eight seconds remaining and Jones snuffed out Indiana's last hope with a steal and feed to Ralph Simpson, who stuffed it at the buzzer.

Simpson was Denver's high scorer with 26 points, followed by Thompson with 25, Issel with 23 and Jones with 21.

Squires 102, Colonels 82. Mack Calvin's season-high 33 points propelled Virginia to only its 10th victory in 56 games. Willie Wise and Mike Green each added 18 points for the Pacers while Fatty Taylor scored 11 points and grabbed 14 rebounds. Artis Gilmore paced Kentucky with 26 points and Johnny Neumann scored 16.

Record Review

by J. D. Lancaster

America's "History" Tops On The Charts

America's "History"

Although it has been over five months since America performed their outstanding concert in Murray's Stewart Stadium, the group's recordings have not been forgotten. America's fifth album, "History-America's Greatest Hits" on the Warner Brothers label is a must for a record library. This album contains their hit singles starting with their first release, "A Horse With No Name," recorded in 1971.

The hits which we consider outstanding are "I Need You," "Lonely People," "Ventura Highway," "Don't Cross the River," "A Horse with No Name," "Daisy Jane" and "Sister Golden Hair." The three members of the group, Dewey Bunnell, Gerry Beckley and Dan Peek are sons of war veterans - and because of this fact they arrived at their name - America. America, we feel, will probably remain high on the charts with their future albums as they are now with "History."

Post Concert Notes

Tuesday night's concert with Pure Prairie League at MSU was a huge success despite the poor turnout and a now show engagement by Joel Zoss. The League performed nearly two hours straight with their country rock selections.

They played all of their hits including "Amie," "Two Lane Highway" and "Sun Shone Brightly" as well as most of the selections from their new album "If the Shoe Fits." The concert performance of these selections from that album were even better than the album cuts!!!

John David Call was excellent on the steel guitar and banjo as well as lead singer Larry Goshorn, and guitarists and vocalists, Mike Reilly and George Ed Powell.

A Sad Note

We were saddened at the death of famous arranger, composer and orchestra leader Percy Faith. Faith died on February 9 of cancer at the age of 67. The Columbia artist produced 45 albums during his career at that record company. He will be missed by the music world and by those who loved his music and his albums.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Paramount Television has begun production in Hawaii of a two-hour movie, "Death Watch," aimed at a future series for Mike Connors, late of "Mannix."

His "Mannix" producers, Ivan Goff and Ben Roberts, created the new series, about "a former Los Angeles cop who has turned to life associated with the sea to help forget the grief and bitterness in his past."

Connors will take investigative assignments, of course, "which lead him into exciting and dangerous situations."

Also appearing in the ABC pilot are Samantha Eggar, Clu Gulager, Robert Hooks and James Shigeta.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Merv Griffin, who costarred in Warner Brothers musicals in the 1950s, returns to films in Universal's "Two Minute Warning."

The talk show emcee will play himself singing the National Anthem at a championship pro football game.

Oscar Nominees

By BOB THOMAS

Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Shirley McLaine, Warren Beatty, Keith Carradine and Michael Douglas were nominated for Oscars — but not for acting.

James Whitmore is one of five best-actor nominees for his role in "Give 'em Hell, Harry," in which he is the total cast.

"Jaws" was nominated as best picture of 1975 but won no mention for direction, acting or writing.

These were among the oddities in the 48th nominations for Motion Picture Academy awards, announced Tuesday at the brand-new home for Oscar. To no one's surprise, the big winner was "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" with nine nominations. "Barry Lyndon" was second with seven, but none for acting.

It was just one of those offbeat years, strange more than surprising. Observers wondered how Whitmore, who portrayed Harry Truman on stage hundreds of times before putting his monologue on tape, could logically compete with these film performances:

Walter Matthau, "The Sunshine Boys"; Jack Nicholson, "Cuckoo's Nest"; Al Pacino, "Dog Day Afternoon"; Maximilian Schell, "The Man in the Glass Booth."

Did Louise Fletcher ("Cuckoo's Nest") and Ann-Margret ("Tommy") play supporting or starring roles? They were nominated as best actress, along with Isabelle Adjani of "The Story of Adele H.," Glenda Jackson, "Hedda," and Carol Kane, "Hester Street."

And if "Jaws" was one of the five best pictures, why didn't it score in the creative categories? "Cuckoo's Nest," "Dog Day Afternoon," "Barry Lyndon," "Nashville."

George Burns, who

costarred with Matthau in "The Sunshine Boys," somehow appears in the supporting actor category, along with Brad Dourif, "Cuckoo's Nest"; Burgess Meredith, "The Day of the Locust"; Chris Sarandon, "Dog Day Afternoon"; Jack Warden, "Shampoo."

What about the nonacting actors who were nominated? Shirley McLaine was named as producer of the documentary, "The Other Half of the Sky: A China Memoir"; her brother Warren Beatty, as coauthor of "Shampoo"; Keith Carradine as writer of the song, "I'm Easy" from "Nashville"; Michael Douglas as coproducer of "Cuckoo's Nest."

Why was Federico Fellini nominated for his direction of "Amarcord" when the film won the foreign-language Oscar last year? Because "Amarcord" wasn't released in Los Angeles theaters until 1975, thus qualifying in all categories. Foreign language nominees don't have to be shown locally.

Reporters should have known that this was going to be an odd year. The nominations were announced in the Academy's splendid new Samuel Goldwyn theater, with banks of telephones to spread the news to the waiting world. None of the phones worked.

The winners will be announced in March 29 ceremonies at the Music Center.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Movie castings: Darryl Hickman, who once was a CBS Television executive, plays an executive of the United Broadcasting System in MGM's "Network."

John Carradine joins the cast of Paramount's "The Last Tycoon."

Melvin Douglas has been added to "The Tenant," which Roman Polanski is directing for Paramount in Paris.

More Unemployed In State; Workers Making More Money

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — More Kentuckians who are eligible to work are unemployed than last year at this time, but those who have jobs apparently are making more for their efforts, says state Finance Commissioner William Scent.

He commented Thursday after a report was released showing that Kentucky's General Fund receipts for the first seven months of the current fiscal year increased 8.8 per cent over the same period in 1975.

Individual income tax receipts for the period totaled $172,155,648 — an increase of 15.4 per cent over the same period in the last fiscal year.

"This would indicate that Kentuckians are making more money this year than last year," Scent said. "Personal incomes are up over last year, which is a healthy sign for the economy."

Scent said Kentucky's economic situation is good, regardless of the financial conditions of other states, and the reason, he noted, is "our continuing coal boom."

Coal prices have dropped, thereby causing coal severance tax revenues for the seven months to drop 10 per cent compared to the same period a year ago.

But corporate tax receipts are up, as are road fund receipts, motor fuel taxes, Scent said.

"I would say a large part of this is due to the coal boom we are still enjoying," Scent commented. "Even though the severance tax receipts are down production is still up."

"We're not rolling in the money," he said of the state's economy. "But I believe we're still better off than most other states, and again, the saving factor has been the coal economy."

Motor fuels tax receipts for the seven month period were up 3.5 per cent, and motor vehicle usage tax receipts climbed by 11.1 per cent, he said.

This indicates, Scent said, that Kentuckians are buying more new and used automobiles and are using their vehicles more often than they did a year ago.

"Since motor fuel taxes are up it would indicate that more motor fuel has been consumed for the first seven months than last year," Scent said. "I would think it would mean that more people are driving more miles on Kentucky roads."

Scent said he was optimistic about the state's economic situation.

"I would say our economy is continuing to hold its own and that we can be cautiously optimistic about it. Nationwide though I just don't know," Scent said. "I feel like we are on the upswing in Kentucky."

The statistics released by his department also indicate that fewer Kentuckians are going to race tracks but that those who go are betting more.

And, the figures show that Kentuckians are developing more of a taste for wine.

Wine consumption increased 8 per cent during the seven month period, while beer consumption went up 2.1 per cent and liquor consumption increased 7.5 per cent.

Bill Banning Nonreturnable Bottles Remains In Committee

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A bill to ban nonreturnable beverage containers failed to get out of a legislative committee Thursday, and it now seems unlikely that the committee will report the bill favorably.

Members heard two hours of conflicting testimony at a public hearing on the bill, and Sen. Mike Moloney, D-Lexington, chairman of the Senate Judiciary-Statutes Committee, said he would keep the record open until Tuesday for introduction of further testimony.

Moloney said the committee would act on the bill next Thursday, "if the members want to bring it up."

The bill, SB 59, would require a deposit and refund for all beer and soft drink containers sold in Kentucky. It is patterned after an Oregon bill enacted three years ago.

The sponsor, Sen. John Berry, D-New Castle, said he has received support for the legislation from all over the state.

He asked the committee to "view this with common sense."

"It doesn't take a lot of common sense to know it takes less energy and fewer natural resources to wash a bottle than to make one," he said. "We can't continue as a throwaway (society) indefinitely without destroying ourselves and the world."

Berry made his comments near the end of the hearing. Opponents and supporters had each quoted extensively from various studies to support their contentions about the bill.

"I was aware all through this presentation that you can extract statistics from studies and support just about anything you want," Berry said. "I was keenly aware of a distortion of the truth (by opponents)."

Berry referred specifically to a comment made by Scotty Smith, executive director of the Kentucky AFL-CIO. Smith, who opposed the bill, had tried to contact Berry "at least 20 times" to express his opposition to the bill.

Clearly controlling his anger, Berry said he received one letter from the man three years ago, opposing similar legislation Berry introduced in the 1974 General Assembly. He said he has never again been contacted by Smith's brother.

"That simply confirms my suspicion that there isn't any limit on how far folks will go to keep from losing a buck," Berry said.

He termed the bill a "classic example of people versus special interests," telling the committee, "the test is whether you have the intestinal fortitude to stand up against special interests and for the people."

The senator's remarks drew enthusiastic applause from supporters and from one committee member, Sen. Lowell Hughes, D-Ashland, but provoked the ire of Sen. Don Johnson, R-Newport.

"I resent your implication" that any member who disagrees with the legislation lacks common sense, Johnson said.

Berry replied coldly that he was aware that some legislators had commitments to constituents and to industry, but that any legislator who acted on common sense would have to support the bill.

A string of witnesses representing retailers, distributors, and bottling and metal plants criticized the bottle bill, saying it has not worked in Oregon and won't solve Kentucky's litter problem.

Opponents said it would result in a loss of jobs, and would increase the cost of beer and soft drinks.

Opponents also criticized a Legislative Research Commission study as poorly researched and inaccurate which said the legislation would result in a significant reduction of litter in Kentucky.

Supporters said the opponents' allegations are unfounded and that the legislation could increase jobs and result in a saving to the consumer. They also said it has been demonstrated that the legislation has solved much of Oregon's litter problem.

Services Planned At New Providence

Regular worship services will be held at the New Providence Church of Christ on Sunday. Periods of Bible Study, with classes for all ages, will be conducted at 10:00 a.m. and 5:30 p.m.

The worship hour will be at 11:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. At both services, Bro. Ed Casteel, the church minister, will be speaking on "The Holy Spirit."

At 4:30 p.m. there will be an Elders and Deacons meeting to discuss the affairs of the church.

Carroll Reiterates Intention Of Ridding Kentucky Of Birds

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Outcries from environmental groups notwithstanding, Gov. Julian Carroll again has emphatically stated his intentions to rid Kentucky of millions of pesky blackbirds.

His most recent expression to that effect was made in a letter to the president of the National Audubon Society, Dr. Elvis J. Stahl, in New York.

Carroll acknowledged that he had received a letter from Stahl in which the Audubon Society president had expressed concern about the use of the chemical PA-14 to exterminate starlings, grackles and other blackbird species.

The state tried two weeks ago to kill some eight million blackbirds at the tiny western Kentucky town of Russellville by using the chemical. The effort failed because it did not rain as expected.

To be effective, the chemical must be sprayed on the birds during cold weather when it rains enough to drench their feathers. The chemical, when combined with water, alcohol and cold temperatures, strips protective oils from the bird's feathers and causes them to freeze to death.

The chemical was used successfully by the Army last year to exterminate more than a million birds roosting at the Ft. Campbell, Ky., military reservation. But environmental groups went to

MSU Chapter Gets Award

Murray State University's Beta Gamma chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau has been selected to receive the first $100 award for excellence in local operations in the Southern Region by the international honorary professional fraternity in industrial arts and industrial vocational education.

As the 1975 chapter recipient of the William E. Warner Memorial Award in the Southern Region, which is made of seven states and Puerto Rico, Beta Gamma was given special recognition for its homecoming floats, for awards given to educational leaders in the area, and for mass produced projects for showing support of campus athletic teams.

Chapters under consideration for the award are judged on their programs of activities, service projects, accuracy and promptness in business relations with the international office, and advancement of Epsilon Pi Tau ideals.

Ralph Story, a Murray senior, heads the Beta Gamma chapter of about 30 active members on the campus as student president.

Paul Lynn, associate professor of industrial arts education, is the trustee, and Dr. Wendell Jordan, assistant professor of industrial arts education, is the co-trustee.

Besides Kentucky, the other states in the Southern Region are Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, North Carolina, Tennessee, and West Virginia.

William E. Warner was the founder of Epsilon Pi Tau from Ohio State University.

'Bible Bill' Posted For Passage In State Senate

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Sen. Walter Strong's so-called "Bible bill" — a measure that evokes memories of the John Scopes "Monkey Trial" in Tennessee a half century ago — was posted for passage today in the Kentucky Senate.

The bill would permit public school teachers in Kentucky to include the biblical theory of creation in any course of instruction in which the Darwinian theory of evolution also is taught.

The measure would permit, but not require, the use of the Bible as an instructional book only, and no child would be forced to accept the biblical theory of creation as fact. It could be taught only as a theory.

Strong, a Democrat and minister from Beattyville, said he filed the bill simply to let teachers know that they may use the Bible. He said many have not used it out of fear of prosecution or retaliation by parents or school administrators.

The bill also would prohibit public school teachers from stressing any particular religious belief.

Scopes was prosecuted and convicted in 1925 in Dayton, Tenn., for having taught evolution in the local high school. He was fined $100 and court costs.

On Thursday, the Senate passed a bill which had been put off several times, to compensate victims of crime for out of pocket medical expenses and for lost wages.

It was sponsored by Sen. David Karem, D-Louisville. The measure would allow the state to compensate crime victims whose insurance does not cover medical expenses relating to the crime, and for wages lost as a result of the injury.

The governor would appoint members of a crime victims' compensation board.

"It is a national trend to move into this area and many states have already adopted acts in this area," Karem said.

"This is the first effort this state has ever made to compensate those people who are innocent victims of crimes," Karem added.

Several senators expressed reservations about the bill, noting that it could lead to more government bureaucracy — not less — a philosophy endorsed by Gov. Julian Carroll.

But Karem said the bill had Carroll's backing, and it was approved by a 25-11 vote.

Amato Appointed As Commissioner

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Julian Carroll has appointed James G. Amato of Lexington as commissioner of Alcoholic Beverage Control. The appointment becomes effective March 1.

Amato replaces Julian W. Nippenberg, who resigned Feb. 29.

Amato, who has been executive director of Kentucky Citizens for Judicial Improvement, was Lexington city prosecutor from 1966 to 1970 and was municipal judge of Lexington from 1970 through 1974.

Liz Carpenter To Speak At ERA Rally

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The press secretary for former First Lady Lady Bird Johnson, Liz Carpenter, will be a guest speaker at a pro-Equal Rights Amendment forum here next Sunday.

Ms. Carpenter is a member of the Democratic National Committee and was one of the organizers of the National Women's Political Caucus.

Sen. Kelsey Friend, D-Pikeville, said he was worried about how far the state will go in developing "more social programs."

"The government can't be God," Friend said, but voted for the bill anyway.

The Senate, in one of its busiest days of the 1976 session, approved 11 other measures, including one, sponsored by Sen. John Berry, D-New Castle, to implement a constitutional amendment approved by Kentucky voters in 1969.

The bill would redefine agricultural value for property tax purposes as the value of the land based on its income producing capability rather than the fair market value.

Penitentiary Superintendent Claims Innocence

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — The superintendent of the Eddyville Penitentiary says that he has taken a lie detector test to show that he was not involved in a conspiracy to kill inmates at the institution.

Supt. Henry Cowan said he took the test Jan. 29-30 in Chicago, with John E. Reid and Associates conducting the examination.

But Ken Kennedy, who was commissioned by the governor's prison commission to investigate the allegations, said he hasn't seen the results of the test. "I don't know whether this will cover all we need to know," he said, adding that he hopes the information is sufficient "so that we won't have to run other tests."

Hearst's Lawyers Face Another Legal Skirmish In Court Today

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst's attorneys, who instructed her to invoke the 5th Amendment 19 times in her bank robbery trial, faced another legal skirmish today in their battle to keep what they claim is potentially incriminating evidence from the jury.

U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter upheld Miss Hearst's right to refuse to answer the government prosecutor's questions Thursday about her actions during the 12 months before her capture.

But U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. said he intended to ask Carter today to admit a taped jailhouse conversation as evidence of the defendant's willing commitment to radical social change.

In the contested tape recording, Miss Hearst told long-time friend Patricia Tobin within 48 hours of her Sept. 18 arrest her future statements would be from "a revolutionary feminist perspective."

Such change, he argued, led her to join with her Symphonies Liberation Army kidnapers in the April 15, 1974, robbery of a Hibernia Bank branch headed by Miss Tobin's father.

Chief defense attorney F. Lee Bailey contends the jailhouse tape is irrelevant to the bank robbery for which Miss Hearst is on trial.

Browning planned to resume his cross-examination of Miss Hearst today, the defendant's 22nd birthday.

Miss Hearst underwent her first full day of cross-examination Thursday and testified that she was not certain that she was brainwashed by her captors — as previously maintained by her defense lawyers. She said, "I'm not sure what happened to me."

She said she did not try to contact her parents during her underground odyssey because she felt they would not want to see or hear from her. She conceded that perhaps she should have risked accepting an early offer of freedom from her captors and cried when asked to recount physical abuse at their hands.

Then, with the jury absent, Bailey fought heatedly against the admission of dates, places and documents that might connect his client to a second bank robbery and apparent plans for others.

Carter took under submission the government's request that papers and notebooks found in Miss Hearst's last fugitive hideout be presented to the jury. Carter indicated it was unlikely he would rule before Monday.

San Mateo County Sheriff John R. McDonald Jr., in charge of the jail where Miss Hearst has been kept since her capture, has been called to testify about the taping at a hearing outside the presence of the jury.

The jury of seven women and five men was removed from the courtroom for more than an hour Thursday as opposing attorneys wrangled over the controversial documents and Bailey repeatedly instructed the pale defendant not to answer prosecution questions.

Bailey left the prosecution irate Wednesday when he wrapped up his three-day examination of Miss Hearst by skipping over a full year of her 19-month voyage in the terrorist underground.

Court Rules Farmland Must Be Assessed On Agricultural Use

By SY RAMSEY
Associated Press Writer

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Supreme Court ruled today that farmland must be assessed on the basis of agricultural use and not on the sale price of comparable property.

The decision stressed that the high court still regards comparable sales as the most reliable index of fair cash value for non-farm property.

But, it said, the mandate of a 1969 constitutional amendment clearly exempts farmland from this yardstick.

The ruling stemmed from a dispute between taxing authorities and taxpayers in Fayette Circuit Court, whose decision the high court upheld.

James Hamilton Gess and others appealed 1971 assessments and the local board of supervisors decreased their valuations.

But the local property valuation administrators and the state Board of Tax Appeals tried to overturn the decrease. They contended the fair cash and agricultural values of the Fayette County land involved really were much the same.

They are not the same, the high court said.

"The fallacy ... is that even though the highest and best use of a tract of land today is for agricultural purposes, and it is actually being so used, what it will bring when offered for sale may be and often is influenced by its potential value for other purposes," the decision said.

"The plain fact is that there are fewer and fewer sales of property in which the price is not inflated to some degree by factors other than its value for purely agricultural and horticultural purposes."

The high court said this "excess market value" of the land's potential use is precisely what the constitutional amendment seeks to eliminate from the taxing process.

"It follows that the value of property for agricultural purposes alone can never be ascertained by a mechanical application of comparable sales," the court said.

"...There can be no slide rule method or formula by which assessments conforming to (the amendment) may be achieved quickly and in mass production fashion."

The Supreme Court said it recognizes the process of assessing farm property under the amendment is not easy, but added that hindrance "cannot serve as a justification for deviating in any degree."

All the Supreme Court justices concurred in the ruling except for Chief Justice Scott Reed of Fayette County, who did not participate in the case.

Democrats Stunned By Failure To Override Ford's Jobs Bill Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stunned by their failure to override President Ford's veto of a $6.1-billion public-works jobs bill, congressional Democrats are trying to figure out what kind of substitute measure they can offer.

There were plans in Congress to seek a compromise jobs measure, including talk of giving quick consideration to other pending job-creating legislation.

Two Republican-sponsored bills offered as alternatives to the vetoed measure would provide aid when the unemployment rate nationwide topped 7 per cent and the aid would go to localities where the rate was above 8 per cent. The national rate in January was 7.8 per cent.

The cost of one bill was estimated at $780 million in the first year and would provide funds for community development in those areas of high unemployment.

"This is really a bitter disappointment," said House Majority Leader Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., when told the Senate had fallen three votes short of overriding Ford's veto, 63 to 35.

A few hours earlier Thursday, the House voted to override by 319 to 98, a margin of 41 votes.

Ford got the news on board Air Force One, flying to a campaign swing through New Hampshire. He was described as "elated" and claimed a political victory over the Democrats.

He called the jobs bill "election-year politicking. It was pork barreling of the worst kind."

Democratic leaders were shocked by the defeat of the measure, which they had said would generate up to 600,000 jobs.

Robert Strauss, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, had termed the struggle over the bill "a political issue" during a meeting with several big city mayors and Democratic Senators on Wednesday and had warned that "if we can't beat him (Ford) on this, we are in big trouble."

Hans G. Tanzler, mayor of Jacksonville, Fla., and president of the National League of Cities, which had lobbied hard for the bill, said his organization was "profoundly disappointed the President saw fit to deny this emergency aid and that some senators succumbed to the administration's campaign to frustrate the expressed intent of Congress and the hopes of

Chili Supper Will Be Tuesday By Robertson PTA

A chili supper will be held on the Robertson School on Tuesday, February 24, at six p.m. The menu will consist of chili, sandwiches, crackers, pickles, dessert, and drink with the cost being $1.00 for adults, 75 cents for school age children, and free to preschoolers.

Since the week of February 24th will be Teacher Appreciation Week, the Robertson School teachers will be given special recognition following the supper.

A short business meeting will also include the presentation of the slate of new officers for the PTA.

All parents are urged to give their continued support to Robertson PTA and the teachers by attending the supper on Tuesday, a PTA spokesman said.
